Interagency Council of Monroe County

Post Office Box 1278, Stroudsburg PA 18360

ORGANIZATION:

The IAC is a volunteer coalition of representatives from membership agencies who provide human services to the entire population of Monroe County with an emphasis on low-income residents.

PURPOSE: To provide...

1. A forum for discussion of community services provided by the membership
2. A recognized body to encourage coordination of existing services and resources on the local, state and national level
3. A vehicle for developing and implementing improvements in the understanding, knowledge and services of those agencies

MISSION:

To create awareness of the human services available in Monroe County in order to meet the needs of, and improve the quality of life for the people in our community.
